EASTER GARDEN The Easter Garden represents the world, a world created and charged with the grandeur of God. Water represents: Life, Growth, Healing and Renewal. The Path represents the journey of our lives. The Stones represent the obstacles, Hardships, and blocks our lives.. Lent and Easter is about rolling away the stones, and smoothing out the pathway to the Lord.. Plants remind us that life is not all doom and gloom, but has life and colour in it also

FOOD FOR THOUGHT To be good stewards we must be good shepherds, willing to lay down our lives for those committed to our care, not mere hired hands who run odd, “leaving the sheep to be snatched and scattered by the wolf.”.

MARK KELLY
Employable Me

Over the past couple of weeks I have been watching a series on Channel Two called Employable Me. It follows the lives of a series of people with disabilities in their search for employment. A number of the people on the show are on the Autism Spectrum. This makes their efforts to speak to people and go through employment interviews terribly hard and even harder to watch!

A lot of people show their real compassion and empathy and try to smooth the way for them in their Everest like quests to get a job. Some of them are successful in obtaining opportunities while many are still trying to land that elusive role. It is a real joy to watch those that are successful receive the news of their successful job search. It shows how much these people really value being a part of mainstream society and appreciate the opportunity to contribute to that society. We could all learn a thing or two from them about gratitude and overcoming seemingly impossible obstacles.

I believe the people prepared to give these guys a go can best be described as people that are truly acting as Christians. or as Christians should. We can all learn lessons of compassion and empathy from all of these players and I recommend you have a look at this program if you get the chance.
